

1) Answer: B

Explanation: Pangaea is the supercontinent hypothesized by Alfred Wegener to be the origin of all landmasses of the Earth.

2) Answer: A

Explanation: Constructive Margins, also known as Divergent Plate Boundaries, are formed when two plates move apart relative to each other.

3) Answer: C

Explanation: When two oceanic plates collide, the older and denser plate subducts

4) Answer: A

Explanation: A continental rift is generated when divergent boundaries occur within a continent.

5) Answer: D

Explanation: A fracture zone is a linear break on the ocean floor that runs perpendicular to oceanic ridges.